Chart: Comparison Shopping

Obtain the food advertising section of your local newspaper or find coupons for different grocery stores online.
Make a list of the four basic food groups and choose three foods from each group. Compare prices for these foods at different stores and tell where each food is least expensive that week. Compare and contrast the prices on a chart and decide where it would be best to do your grocery shopping for the week.

Share your chart and findings with your classmates.

