Unit IV: Lesson B3

Oral Report: Immigration Recommendation

After studying the lifestyle of Mexicans living in a rural environment, prepare an outline of issues facing them today. Identify the problems of rural life in Mexico and the effect on families. Compare this rural lifestyle with the rural lifestyle in the United States. Brainstorm a list of advantages and disadvantages for immigrating to the United States. Consider the effects of immigration for the United States. Investigate current immigration laws. Consider what the effects would be if there were no immigration laws.

Recommend laws governing the immigration of Mexican citizens to the United States. Organize your information in an outline. Use your findings to write a recommendation regarding Mexican immigration to the United States.

Using your outline, persuade your classmates in an oral presentation of the value of your recommendation.
