

Social Studies, Grade 6
Unit V: Lesson A4

Graph: Population Densities

Research the Central American population densities. Survey the various land forms of the countries and hypothesize the relationship between land forms and population density.

Summarize your findings in a written outline. Report orally to the class your analysis, using your graph to support your research. Help the class try to find seven other countries with similar land forms and population densities.