Unit VII: Lesson A3

Report: South American Economy

Many South American Countries have weak economies because they depend on the sale of a single export. Research the exports of different countries. Read about inflation and other economic problems these countries are experiencing.

Write an essay describing how a country can suffer when prices drop. Use examples to support your statements. The report may include a product map. Brainstorm possible solutions to stabilize and expand the economies. Present several of these in your essay.

Make an oral report to the class based on your essay.
