Chart / Essay: Getting a Quote

Choose an activity to do or something to buy. Using the Internet, phone directory, or advertisements in the classified section of a newspaper, call at least five different places to find out a price or an estimate for what you want.

Record the prices you receive in a chart from the least to the most expensive. Why do you think there is so much or so little difference between the prices? Write your conclusions in an essay and attach it to the chart.
