

Social Studies, Grade 2
Unit III: Lesson B3

Collection: World Products

Collect samples or pictures of products from as many different parts of the United States and the world as possible.

Organize the items by continent or region of the United States. Study the collection to discover which areas supply most of the things Americans buy. Think of reasons why those areas supply many things and why other areas supply few things.

Make a display of the collection with a map of the world and/or the United States, showing with string the country or area where each of the products was made. Write several sentences or paragraphs explaining why some areas supply many things and other areas supply few things. Create a title for the display.
