Unit IV: Lesson C3

Planning: Honor Your School Workers

Make a list of the people, other than the teachers and the principal, who work at your school. Learn what thing each of those school workers does to help the school and the students. Find out interesting and important things about the personal lives of each of the school workers.

Plan how to organize the information to share with the other students in the school so those students will get to know the school's workers better. With your teachers and other students, plan a special school program or other way to honor each of those workers.
