Unit VI: Lesson B5

Report: Trade With Japan

Research what Americans buy from Japan. Find out what Japanese buy from the United States.

Plan a way to use a map to show the trade between the United States and Japan. Think about why those things are the things that people in each country want to buy from the other country. Decide why they don't make or grow those things in their own country.

Use a map to show the kinds of things that Japan and the United States buy and sell to each other. Make a title for the map. Write a report telling why Japan and the United States buy things from each other.
