Unit II: Lesson D5

Personal Testimony: Decisions, Decisions

Research the lives of William Douglas, Felix Frankfurter, and Earl Warren, three great justices of the Supreme Court.

Write a brief biography about each man, emphasizing their contributions to law. In times past, the Supreme Court justices have had to interpret the law and make decisions that were not always popular. Does this ever happen to you? Do you ever make decisions that are contrary to what your friends believe?

Write about an instance when this happened to you. Describe how you felt and what others thought. Was the decision in your best interest?
